YOUTH GET TO SPEAK OUT!

Do you know an aspiring 'change maker' aged between 12 to 25 years old living, working or studying in the City of Armadale?

We're looking for younger members of the community to register their interest in the Armadale Youth Advisory Council (AYAK) where they can represent the views of their peers.

The AYAC will provide an opportunity for youth to connect with the City and contribute their views and ideas about issues and projects which impact younger people in the community. We have a diverse mix of youth from different backgrounds and experiences and are keen to hear your voices on matters that concern you!

Register online at www.armadale.wa.gov.au/youth-and-young-people from 27 July to 18 August.

REMINDER

Tip passes for the Armadale landfill and recycling facility expire on 31 August.
