

I love to read...

2012 is the National Year of Reading

The City of Armadale Libraries would love to have a photo of you in your favourite place to read.

It can be a favourite chair, at a café or park, alone or with others. Where, with whom, and how is up to you.

If you have a great photo of yourself reading in your favourite or an unusual place please share it and help us celebrate the National Year of Reading.

We will then put these pictures on display in our libraries.

National Year of Reading 2012

Discover and rediscover the joy of reading.

If you have any further questions please call Tamara on 9399 0657 or email your photo to twholey@armadale.wa.gov.au