

Humans of Armadale 2025- Community Volunteers

We are inviting people who reside or volunteer in the City of Armadale to share their inspiring volunteering stories with us.

We will select up to 25 people aged 16 years and older and share their stories. The selected participants will be interviewed by Centre for Stories, who will then produce a short audio story and accompanying written transcript. Each selected participant will also have a professional photograph taken to be shown on our website, at our launch and exhibition, and in the Humans of Armadale 2025 book.

They will also be invited to share their stories with Centre for Stories for inclusion in their collection (available to view at <https://centreforstories.com/stories/>).

Successful participants will be invited to a formal Book Launch in May 2025 during National Volunteer Week, which will be open to participants and their families, the people who nominated them, dignitaries and community members.

As part of our selection process, we will be looking for a range of people from all scopes of life that demonstrate the diversity of the people of Armadale. This may include diversity in: culture and lifestyle, differing abilities, gender, and age. We would like to hear about the types of volunteering either formal or informal, that you're involved in and the people, organisations or causes the volunteering benefits.

If you would like to tell the story of your helping or volunteering journey you may nominate yourself. Alternatively, you may speak with someone you know and obtain their permission to nominate them.
