

CoderDojo: Coding Social Club

CoderDojo is a free coding social club for young people aged 8 to 17 years old.

At CoderDojo you will:

- Create and work on your own coding project
- Practice your coding skills
- Develop self-directed learning

These sessions are unstructured, and self-directed.

Please bring along a project you've been working on, or if you have never coded before, come with an idea and our mentors will help you get started.

These sessions run Mondays, 4 to 5pm at Armadale Library.

8 February, 15 February, 22 February, 8 March, 15 March, 22 March.

Computers are limited, however you can bring your own laptop. Children under 12 years will need to be supervised by a parent or guardian for the entire session.

Bookings are not required.
